Why Most Nitric Oxide Supplements Fail

Most seniors try these common ways to boost nitric oxide, but they simply don't work well. Here's why, explained simply:

L-arginine pills

Studies show your body destroys up to 75% of L-arginine during digestion. After age 50, it's even worse—your body can't convert it to nitric oxide at all.

Beet juice or spinach

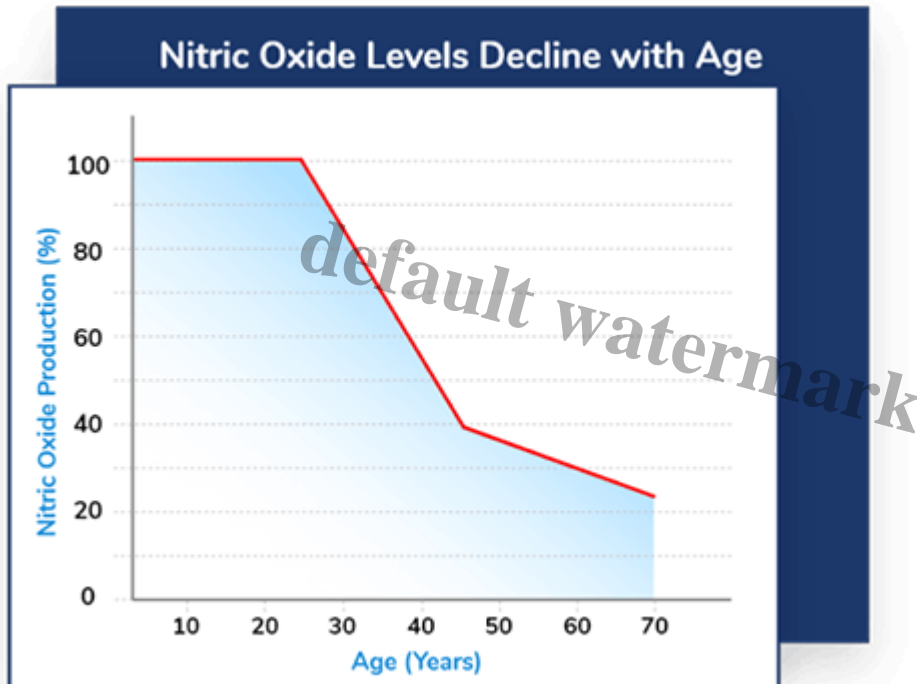

These help a little, but you'd need to drink 6+ glasses of beet juice or eat 5 pounds of spinach EVERY DAY. Plus, grocery store produce varies in strength.

Regular capsules

Harvard scientists discovered nitric oxide production starts in your mouth, NOT stomach. Stomach acid destroys capsules before they work.

The problem for seniors 55+

Your body naturally produces less nitric oxide after 50. Common methods fail because aging changes how your body absorbs nutrients.

3 Energy-Enhancing Nutrients

#1 Beet Root Powder

Olympic-Level Stamina & Power

Beet root is a favorite of Olympic athletes and for good reason. It's rich in natural nitrates that help open up blood vessels, improve oxygen flow, and supercharge your stamina.

#2 Hawthorn Berry

The Absorption Booster Power

Used for centuries to support the heart, hawthorn berry is now known to enhance nitric oxide absorption. So it helps your body get more nitric oxide out of every dose.

#3 L-Citrulline

Superior to L-Arginine Stamina & Power

Beet root is a favorite of Olympic athletes and for good reason. It's rich in natural nitrates that help open up blood vessels, improve oxygen flow, and supercharge your stamina.
